CIL Report
Team Building & Interpersonal
Skills Workshop

By Dhruithina & Ibbani

Our CIL session on 6th August was focused on team building and Interpersonal skills. It was a fun and learning-filled day with games, reflections, and activities.

We started with a morning reflection, followed by learning about the stages of team building. One exciting activity was the Blindfold game, where the leader had to reach a point by following the team's instructions. We also played Minefield, which tested our coordination and trust.

In the role play session, we worked together to perform as a team, showing leadership and teamwork. Later, we had a discussion around the experience.

Post-lunch, we reflected on what we learnt, the challenge we overcame, and the usefulness we overcame. The final activity was the "Draw & Describe" game, where one person drew on the board based on their teammate's instructions.

CIL

The CIL session was engaged by Mr. Gladwin. It focused upon teamwork and Interpersonal skills. It emphasized the importance of working collaboratively to achieve common goals. It covered the key elements of effective teamwork such as trust, communication, cooperation, adaptability and mutual respect.

The classes were so alive and engaging because of the number of activities conducted by the trainee. We learnt how diverse strengths within a team contribute to problem-solving, innovation and productivity. It also focused on interpersonal skills the abilities that enable positive and productive interactions with others.

Through role play, discussions and activities we understood how strong interpersonal skill help in building respect, and collaboration.

Thank You.
