23.	Summary of the Event (Around 100 words)	Department of Centre for Innovation and Leadership – CIL conducted training for the students MCA 1 st Sem in "Communication Skills". The trainers explained about different types of communication. The students were asked to give their introduction in a quirky way. Team activities like role play, blind leads blind, story building, dumb charades, Chinese whispers etc., were conducted to bring out the art of communication. Non-verbal communication was also the aim of the activities. Listening skills were also explored in the workshop. Overall the students were now familiar with verbal, non-verbal communication skills and also understood the importance of them.

24/01/2025

The class was very interactive and effective. Both CIL trainers Professora nam and Guchra nam's class were very skill based programs on sessions. They made us do some activities on communication which helped us to understand the skills in a better way. Overall the class that they taken was very useful and we learnt most of softskills like communication leadership skills etc.

23.	Summary of the Event (Around 100 words)	Department of Centre for Innovation and Leadership – CIL conducted workshop for the students MCA 3rd Sem in "Pre-Placement Training". The trainers explained the importance of resume and its preparation. Interview skills were explained with tips and common questions asked in interviews were discussed. The trainers also gave important advice on the presentation skills and also how one can build confidence in oneself. Overall, the training was crucial for the final year students as they are facing campus drives. Students had good insight into campus drives and how to equip themselves with the required skills to face them.

Pre-Placement Talk

The CIL workshop was highly informative and provided valuable insights into preparing for Job interviews. It successfully covered key topics such as

- Drafting a strong resume.
- Answering common interview questions and
- presenting oneself confidently

Overall it was a well-structured workshop that equipped participants with the tools and strategies needed to perform efficiently in interviews.
