Held on campus with enthusiastic participation, the event brought together budding entrepreneurs and seasoned professionals in a dynamic exchange of ideas. Students presented a diverse range of startup concepts—from tech-driven solutions to socially impactful initiatives—demonstrating both originality and a keen understanding of market needs. Each presentation was followed by insightful feedback from the invited Resource Persons, a panel of accomplished entrepreneurs who generously shared their expertise, challenged assumptions, and offered strategic guidance. The summit not only empowered students to refine their business models but also fostered a spirit of collaboration and mentorship. It was a powerful reminder that with the right support and vision, student ideas can evolve into transformative ventures.
