Feedback

"Topic: ISDC: Gateway to Overseas Education"

The Career guidance session on "ISDC: Gateway to Overseas Education" provided useful information on studying abroad but had some notable gaps. The session primarily focused on overseas education, eligibility criteria for different countries, and the cost of studying abroad.

While these aspects were valuable, the session lacked several details on job market conditions, placement opportunities, and salary expectations after graduation, key factors that influence students' decision about studying abroad. I was expecting insights into career prospects, post-study work permits, and long-term return on investment, but these topics were not adequately addressed.

Despite offering a general overview of overseas education, the session could have been more comprehensive by including discussions on employment trends, demands for specific skills in various countries and strategies to secure high-paying jobs post-graduation.

BBA 6th Sem ABC.

The Intercollegiate event conducted on 20th March was an exciting opportunity for the students from other colleges to participate in the event where to engage in a series of competitive and collaborative activities focused on the world of commerce.

Students from various institutions came in groups to participate in the various activities where they explored the activity conducted, with enthusiasm and involved very actively.

Overall the event was organized very well and the activities planned were unique and those unique activities helps to explore & think differently to win in the activities, students showcased their talent and it was very engaging and innovatively planned event. Happy to be part of such wonderful event.

Thank You.
