She explained how ML is being used various domains like healthcare, retail, banking etc. and showed the example of medical image processing in detecting tumors. She also emphasized on the various algorithms of ML and their applications. The students were also told to have good knowledge in ML to procure jobs. Prof.Chandra also explained the projects and research papers one can take up in the field of ML. Overall it was a knowledge sharing session. |

Thankyou for the wonderful Seminar on machine learning. The session was very informative and easy to understand. you Explained the Concepts clearly with real-life Examples, which helped us understand how machine learning works in Practical applications.

The Explanation of different types of machine learning & their uses in real-world scenarios was very interesting. The presentation was well organized, & the slides were clear & attractive.

Overall, the seminar improved my knowledge about machine learning & increased my interest in learning more about this Subject.

Thankyou for your valuable time and Effort.

It was very informative & useful for understanding modern technologies. The concepts were explained clearly especially topics like supervised learning, classification & regression.

The instructor explained the topics in a simple & understandable way. Doubts were clarified properly, & teaching method was effective.

It was very useful & enhanced my knowledge of machine learning.

Helped me understand how machines learn from data & make intelligent decisions.
